SCHOLARSHIP STORY: Jessica Dai're

*Busy mother of two and wife.
Part-time employee.
Full-time student pursuing two degrees.
A colorful mosaic.*

Jessica Dai're is not only working toward two degrees—Spanish and nursing—but she is balancing her classes with work and caring for her four children and sick husband.

After deciding to come to Sinclair, Dai're experienced a road block in the winter quarter of 2007. She moved from Montgomery County to Greene County and, because of the tuition cost difference, didn't know how she could continue to afford classes. After talking with the Sinclair financial aid staff, she applied for and received the Taylor Access Grant and a book scholarship from the Sinclair Foundation.

"I have no idea how I would have paid for my classes. I'm so grateful," said Dai're.

Since then, Dai're has been attending classes full-time and working at Sinclair as a customer service representative in the conference center. A hefty schedule for a working mom, but Dai're is taking it in stride.

"I love the staff and the people, it seems like everyone goes out of their way to help you at Sinclair," she said. "People really care for you and want you to succeed here."

As for Dai're's future goals, "I am planning to become a nurse and would like to teach Spanish part-time." She adds "I look forward to maybe one day teaching here (at Sinclair)."

It's her husband's health condition that inspired her to get involved in the medical field. "I would love to work with people with sickle cell anemia because that's what my husband has and I understand the issues. I would like to research it."

Dai're admits that it's not easy to go to school full-time, work part-time and manage a family but,

*"if I can do it anyone can,"
she says.*
