Sinclair Talks: Emotional Intelligence—What is it and is it really that important?

Presented by Lindsay Tate & Kym Yahn, Sinclair Workforce Development

It is said that EQ (Emotional Intelligence) is actually more important than IQ! However, many people don't know what EQ is, why it's important, or how to improve their EQ score. Using the Goleman Model of Emotional Intelligence participants will explore the four EQ domains of self-awareness, self-management, social awareness, and relationship management. Participants will complete the Quick EQ Self-Assessment and craft an action plan for developing their EQ skills towards becoming a more effective leader.

Sinclair Talks: Green Dot-Changing Campus Culture One Dot at a Time
Presented by Matt Massie, Manager of Student and Community Engagement & Andrew Owens

The Green Dot strategy aims to shift campus culture and increase proactive preventative behavior by targeting influential members from across a community with basic education, skill practice, and reactive interventions to high-risk situations. Every choice to be proactive as a bystander is categorized as a “new behavior” and thus a “Green Dot.” Individual decisions (green dots) group together to create larger change.

Sinclair Talks: The Significance of Being Non-Judgmental
Presented by Sinclair student, AzReail Essick

At one point in time throughout our lives, we’ve all been judged. Whether it be for the way we dress, how we communicate, where we’re from, or anything we did that someone disapproved of. Listeners and audience members will learn the significant impact of being non-judgmental and the benefits of living in a compassionate and understanding world.
