Late Registration Policy

Students may register for open classes during Sinclair's official late registration period.

Students may not register for any course that has already met once.

- Late registration period is the week before each term begins, but only the two days preceding summer term. See the online class schedule for exact dates for each term.
- A non-refundable late fee of $30.00 is charged for all late registrations, except when adding a class when the student has already registered for the term.
- To audit a class, students register during late registration; there is no late fee charge. Register in person only.

NOTE: Online/Distance learning classes are considered to have met as of midnight on the second day of the term.